

CHAPTER 85

THE DIPLOMATIC PRIVILEGES (EXTENSION) ENACTMENT

The Diplomatic Privileges (United Nations and International Court of Justice) Order B.R.O.N. 8/50

(Made under section 2 of the Enactment.)

[31st January, 1950.]

INDEX

1.	Citation	329
PART I—THE UNITED NATIONS
2.	United Nations Organisation of which United Kingdom and other foreign sovereign Powers are members	329
3.	United Nations to be a body corporate	329
4.	United Nations to have same inviolability as envoy of accredited foreign sovereign Power	329
5.	United Nations to have same exemptions and relief from tax and rates as foreign sovereign Power	329
6.	United Nations to have exemption from customs duties on goods imported for official use and on its official publications	329
7.	United Nations to have exemption from restrictions on import or export in case of goods required for its official use and in the case of its official publications	329
8.	United Nations may send telegrams at press rates	330
9.	Privileges of representatives of member governments to General Assembly or to any Council or other organ of the United Nations	330
10.	Interpretation	330
11.	Privileges and immunities of high officials of the United Nations	330
12.	Privileges and immunities of persons employed on missions on behalf of the United Nations	331
13.	Privileges and immunities of other officials of the United Nations	331
PART II—INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE
14.	Privileges and immunities of judges and Registrar of the International Court of Justice	331
15.	Judges and Registrar of International Court of Justice to be exempt from income tax as regards their official salaries	332
16.	Privileges of agents, counsel and advocates of parties appearing before the International Court of Justice	332
PART III—GENERAL
17.	List of officials, etc., of the Organisation to be compiled and published	332

1. This order may be cited as the Diplomatic Privileges Citation.
(United Nations and International Court of Justice) Order.

PART I

THE UNITED NATIONS

A. The Organisation

2. The United Nations set up by the Charter signed at San Francisco on the 26th June, 1945, is an organisation of which Her Britannic Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom and the governments of foreign sovereign Powers are members. United Nations Organisation of which United Kingdom and other foreign Powers are members.
3. The United Nations shall have the legal capacity of a body corporate and, except in so far as in any particular case it has expressly waived its immunity, immunity from suit and legal process. No waiver of immunity shall be deemed to extend to any measure of execution. United Nations to be a body corporate.
4. The United Nations shall have the like inviolability of official archives and premises occupied as offices as is accorded in respect of official archives and premises of an envoy of a foreign sovereign Power accredited to Her Britannic Majesty. United Nations to have same inviolability as envoy of accredited foreign sovereign Power.
5. The United Nations shall have the like exemption or relief from taxes and rates, other than taxes on the importation of goods, as in accorded to a foreign sovereign Power. United Nations to have same exemption and relief from tax and rates as foreign sovereign Power.
6. The United Nations shall have exemption from taxes on the importation of goods directly imported by the organisation for its official use in the State or for exportation, or on the importation of any publications of the organisation directly imported by it, such exemption to be subject to compliance with such conditions as the Controller of Customs may prescribe for the protection of the revenue. United Nations to have exemption from customs duties on goods imported for official use and on its official publications.
7. The United Nations shall have exemption from prohibitions and restrictions on importation and exportation in the case of goods directly imported or exported by the organisation for its official use and in the case of any publications of the organisation directly imported or exported by it. United Nations to have exemption from restrictions on import or export in case of goods required for its official use and in the case of its official publications.

United Nations may send telegrams at press rates.

8. The United Nations shall have the right to avail itself, for telegraphic communications sent by it and containing only matter intended for publication by the press or for broadcasting (including communications addressed to or despatched from places outside the State), of any reduced rates applicable for the corresponding service in the case of press telegrams.

B. Representatives of Members

Privileges of representatives of member governments to General Assembly or to any Council or other organ of the United Nations.

9. Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the member governments whom they represent, representatives of member governments to the General Assembly or to any Council or other organ of the United Nations shall enjoy—

(a) while exercising their functions as such, and during their journey to and from the place of meeting, immunity from personal arrest or detention and from seizure of their personal baggage and inviolability for all papers and documents;

(b) immunity from legal process of every kind in respect of words spoken or written and all acts done by them in their capacity as representatives; and

(c) while exercising their functions and during their journey to and from the place of meeting, the like exemption or relief from taxes as is accorded to an envoy of a foreign sovereign Power accredited to Her Britannic Majesty, save that the relief allowed, shall not include relief from customs and excise duties except in respect of goods imported as part of their personal baggage. They shall not, where the incidence of any form of taxation depends upon residence, be deemed to be resident in the State during any period when they are present in the State while exercising their functions and during their journey to and from the place of meeting.

The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to British subjects whose usual place of abode is in the State.

Interpretation.

10. For the purposes of the application of this order, the expression "representatives of member governments" shall be deemed to include their official staff, accompanying them as such representatives, as delegates, deputy delegates, advisers, technical experts or secretaries of delegations.

C. High Officials of the United Nations

Privileges and immunities of high officials of the United Nations.

11. Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the Secretary-General or the Security Council of the United Nations, the Secretary-General and Assistant Secretaries-General of the United Nations (and not exceeding at one time six in number) shall be accorded in respect of themselves, their spouses and children under the age of twenty-one, the like immunity from suit and legal process, the like inviolability of residence and the like exemption or relief from taxes as is accorded to an envoy of a foreign sovereign Power accredited to Her Britannic Majesty, his spouse and children. They shall also enjoy exemption from income tax in respect of emoluments received by them as officers of the United Nations.

D. Persons Employed on Missions on Behalf of the United Nations

Privileges and immunities of persons employed on missions on behalf of the United Nations.

12. Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the Secretary-General of the United Nations, persons employed on missions on behalf of the United Nations shall enjoy—

(a) while exercising their functions as such, and during their journey to and from the place of meeting, immunity from personal arrest or detention and from seizure of their personal baggage and inviolability for all papers and documents; and

(b) immunity from legal process of every kind in respect of words spoken or written and all acts done by them in the exercise of their functions.

E. Other Officials of the United Nations

Privileges and immunities of other officials of the United Nations.

13. Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the Secretary-General of the United Nations, officials of the United Nations (other than those referred to in article 11, and officials engaged locally and remunerated by payment calculated on the number of hours worked) shall enjoy—

(a) immunity from suit and legal process in respect of words spoken or written and all acts done by them in the course of the performance of their official duties; and

(b) exemption from income tax in respect of emoluments received by them as officers or servants of the United Nations.

PART II

INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE

Privileges and immunities of judges and Registrar of the International Court of Justice.

14. Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the Court, the judges and Registrar of the International Court of Justice (including any officer of the Court acting as Registrar) shall, when engaged on the business of the Court and during any journey to and from the place where the Court is sitting in connexion with such business, enjoy the like immunity from suit and legal process, the like inviolability of residence and also unless they are British subjects whose usual place of abode is in the State the like exemption or relief from taxes as is accorded to an envoy of a foreign sovereign Power accredited to Her Britannic Majesty.

Judges and Registrar of International Court of Justice to be exempt from income tax as regards their official salaries.

15. The judges and Registrar of the International Court of Justice shall enjoy exemption from income tax in respect of all emoluments received by them as judges or Registrar.

Privileges of agents, counsel and advocates of parties appearing before the International Court of Justice.

16. Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the government whom they represent before the Court, the agents, counsel and advocates of parties before the Court shall enjoy—

(a) when engaged on their missions before the Court and during their journey to and from the place where the Court is sitting in connexion with such missions, immunity from personal arrest or detention and from seizure of their personal baggage and inviolability for all their papers and documents;

(b) immunity from legal process of every kind in respect of words spoken or written and all acts done by them in this capacity; and

(c) when engaged on their missions before the Court and during their journey to and from the place where the Court is sitting in connexion with such missions, the like exemption or relief from taxes as is accorded to an envoy of a foreign sovereign Power accredited to Her Britannic Majesty, save that the relief allowed, shall not include relief from customs and excise duties except in respect of goods imported as part of their personal baggage. They shall not, where incidence of any form of taxation depends upon residence, be deemed to be resident in the State during any period when they are present in the State when engaged on their missions before the Court and during their journey to and from the place where the Court is sitting in connexion with such missions.

The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to British subjects whose usual place of abode is in the State.

PART III GENERAL

List of officials, etc., of the Organisation to be compiled and published.

17. The names of the persons to whom the provisions of articles 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16 apply shall be set forth in a list compiled and published from time to time by the Resident under subsection (3) of section 2 of the Diplomatic Privileges (Extension) Enactment, and such list shall show in regard to each person the date as from which, for the purposes of this order, he first held the office or employment in question, and the date when he ceased to hold that office or employment. Cap. 85.